

We are a young, innovative company based in Wädenswil (ZH) and a leading DOOH advertising marketer in Swiss pharmacies, drugstores and retail. In addition, we support companies in the successful implementation of their digital signage projects – from concept and installation through to operation and service. To strengthen this fast-growing area, we are looking for someone to start immediately or by arrangement:

Digital Signage Service Technician | 100% in the cantons of Bern / Solothurn / Fribourg

Are you a winning personality with experience in onsite service, eager for new challenges, with a high level of commitment and initiative? Then this role could be just right for you:

Your profile:

- Completed vocational training as an electrician, service technician or multimedia electronics technician, or equivalent professional experience
- A flair for IT
- Enjoyment of independently planning and organising customer visits
- Good spoken skills in at least one of the languages German, French or English; additional languages an advantage
- Driving licence category B
- Resident in the deployment region

Your responsibilities

- Independently planning, scheduling and carrying out service work on digital signage installations
- Planning and carrying out new installations
- Advising on the optimal placement of our solutions, including with regard to the necessary mounting equipment and mounting options
- Clean execution of screen installations (including cabling)
- Installation, commissioning and maintenance of LED walls
- Stocking and managing the material required for service and installations (also in your region)
- Reporting work and hardware movements in the database
- Occasionally performing monitoring & support in the helpdesk
- Participating in technical training and meetings
- Assignments predominantly in your region, but regularly throughout Switzerland as well

What we offer:

- You are part of an energetic team with great passion and commitment to achieving our shared goals.
- We live a flat hierarchy and greatly value entrepreneurial thinking and action.
- We offer modern employment conditions with flexible working hours and 5 weeks of holiday.
- We operate in a growing market that offers plenty of potential for development and growth.
- We provide you with a company vehicle for your assignments.

Are you convinced that this role suits you and that you would like to become part of our unique team? Then send your application to hr@excommedia.ch.

We look forward to hearing from you!
